

GET OUT

Have a blast at a blastoff event

Burning Man, the arts and culture event in the Nevada desert, is just a few short months away, and now is the time for artists to collect money to bring their projects to the event. What does this mean to you? Well, artists such as the steampunk guys behind the Raygun Gothic Rocketship are hosting parties such as the Galactic Gala featuring circus and musical acts as well as art for sale.

See singer/songwriter Mark Growden and his trio and avant cellist Zoe Keating. Beatboxer Tim Barsky will perform as will the Copper Lanter Fire Theater and DJ Mimosa.

Details: 8 p.m. to 2 a.m. Friday, Bently Reserve, 301 Battery St., San Francisco. $20-$50, buy advance tickets at www.raygunthi-crocket.com/galacticgala.

— Laura Casey

ERIC GILLET

SINGER/SONGWRITER Mark Growden will be one of several acts Friday at the Galactic Gala in San Francisco.

